

If the Do Not Call law is modified as a result of pressure from telemarketers, this will infringe on my constitutional right as a private citizen not to be harrassed and have my life disturbed. Even if I did business with an entity in the past 18 months, it was most likely of my choosing. If I need their business in the future, I will contact them. The government does not have the right to permit individuals/organizations/companies to intrude on my privacy. Thank you.
